

ZAKIA ARSHAD

Zakia Arshad has been working with marginalized women and children for more than 25 years. She worked for 17 years with the Family Planning Association of Pakistan (FPAP) and from the mid-90s onwards, has been involved with the South Asia Partnership, Pakistan (SAP PK). In her role as an advocacy manager with SAP PK, she has held extensive dialogues and consultations, both at the micro and macro levels with government agencies, NGO representatives, civil society actors, politicians, academics and the business community on issues pertaining to development, human rights, advocacy and the environment. She also has experience working with different government departments, especially the ministry of women's development.